I am יהוה Your Ab-ba.”

Opening Berakah: (Blessing)

“Praise are You, O Yahweh our Ab-ba, Sovereign of the universe, who hast set-apart us with thy commandments, and has enjoined us to count the omer. This is the first yom of the omer. May it please You, O Yahweh our Ab-ba, and the Ab-ba of our fathers, to rebuild the Temple speedily in our yomim (days), and give us our portion in thy Torah (Law).

Opening Prayer:

Leader: Praise be to Yahweh our Ab-ba who has shown exceeding love unto Yisra’Yah. He has entrusted unto us, since the yomim (days) of old, Torat (laws) and mitzvah (commandments) to guide us in the search for truth and in the practice of righteousness. Therefore we are bound at all times to meditate on His precepts, and to rejoice in the teaching which He gives unto those who seek Him. He is our guide, and may the knowledge of His tov goodness never depart from us. Praise be to You, our Ab-ba and Ab-ba of our fathers. You did redeem our ancestors from all their trials, and they have left to us a heritage of belief. Teach us, our Ab-ba, to maintain it loyally, so that it may help mankind to find a way of redemption from all that is evil in Thy sight. We trust in You, our Ab-ba, for You alone art our Redeemer. Praise Yahweh.

Congregation: O everlasting Yahweh, You art our unfailing Guide; Your word is the Torah (law) of our life. On this festival of Shavuot we commemorate the sacred day when Yisra’Yah entered into berith with You. Freed from Pharaoh’s bondage our fathers journeyed through the wilderness till at last they stood in reverence at the foot of Sinai and heard the unforgettable words: I am Yahweh your Ab-ba. Wherever our fathers wandered they carried the memory of Your revelation. Written upon the tablets of their heart was Your command that they dedicate their lives to You and merit the dignity of priesthood in Your service. In your Name they strove to break the yoke of the oppressed, and to bring freedom to the captive. They gave bread to the hungry and shelter to the homeless. They sought an ever deeper knowledge of You and Your will, that they might open the eyes of the blind and lead all men to the light of Your presence. On this yom of Yisra’Yah’s dedication, we pray for renewed awareness of Your revelation. When the world is filled with sorrow and confusion and the path is hidden from our gaze, help us to see

Your eternal purpose. Strengthen our confidence in the triumph of justice among men and nations. Confirm our faith in Your berith that we may continue to carry Your message of brotherhood and shalom (peace) among all the children of men. Praise Yahweh.

Leader: You, O Yahweh, art the source of knowledge and truth. Your Torah and commandments enlighten our mind and show us the path of righteousness. On this festival of Shavuot we recall the yom (day) when, at the mountain of revelation, our fathers vowed to govern their will in You and to accept those ordinances by which man may nobly live. In all centuries that followed, Your Torah was never forgotten in Yisra'Yah. Our fathers meditate on it yom (day) and laylah (night). The meaning of your mitzvah (commandments) grew ever clearer to them as the generations passed. The Torah became the treasured inheritance of the congregation of Yacob. We, thy children love Your Torah, O Yahweh. Our fathers taught it diligently, so that each generation might understand it and observe it in simchah. On this yom (day) which commemorates Your revelation, we bring our children unto Your altar to declare their allegiance to You and Your mitzvah (commandments). Be You with them on this set-apart yom (day). Grant that Your word proclaimed of old become a living message to every soul. Now and throughout their lives may they come with clean hands and pure heart to ascend Your hold mountain. Praise Yahweh.

SHAVUOT AND CONFIRMATION

Leader: Yahweh our Abba, our hearts are filled with simchah (joy) and thankfulness to You on this kodesh festival. Unfailingly, year by year, You dost clothe the earth in radiant beauty and bid it bring its bounteous barakah (blessings). In humble acknowledgement of Your boundless providence, our fathers brought to Your altars on this Kodesh yom (day) the first fruits of their harvest. They chanted songs of gratitude to You for the many gifts of garden and field and for the ripening of the fruit of the Ruach.

Congregation: Thus did they celebrate the season when You did reveal Your Torah unto Yisra'Yah and did enter into a berith (covenant) with Your people, a berith Each year on this set-apart festival this vow is renewed, when our sons and daughters stand before You to enter into Yisra'Yah's eternal berith. In the same words which their fathers spoke, they vow to do and to heed and with the same devotion they pledge themselves unto You. Be You with them, O Yahweh, as You was with our fathers. anoint us all for Your service. Grant that the tov (good) seed we sow may ripen into a harvest of righteousness and truth. Praise Yahweh.

Tehillim 84
1How lovely are Your dwelling places, O Yahweh of hosts!
2My being has longed, and even fainted, For the courts of Yahweh My heart and my flesh cry out for Yahweh
3Even the sparrow has found a home, And the swallow a nest for herself, Where she has put her young ones – Your slaughter-places, O Yahweh of hosts, My Sovereign and my Ab-ba.
4Baruk are those who dwell in Your house, They are ever praising You. Selah.
5Baruk is the man whose strength is in You, Your Highways are in their heart.
6Passing through the valley of weeping, They make it a fountain; The Teacher also covers it with berakah.
7They go from strength to strength, Appearing before יהוה in Tsiyon.
8O יהוה Abba of hosts, hear my prayer; Give ear, O Yahweh of Ya'aqob! Selah.
9O Yahweh, see our shield, And look upon the face of Your anointed.
10For a yom in Your courts Is better than a thousand yomim. I have chosen rather to be a doorkeeper In the House of my Yahweh, Than to dwell in the tents of the wrong.
11For Yahweh is a sun and a shield; Yahweh gives favour and esteem; He withholds no tov matter From those who walk blamelessly.
12 OYahweh of hosts, Baruk is the man who trusts in You!
